

Life as a guest

Andrew Heiton

Atholl Palace architect Andrew Heiton influenced building throughout Scotland.

Personal Stories

Stories, mementos and photographs. The Atholl Palace in their own words.

Medical Room

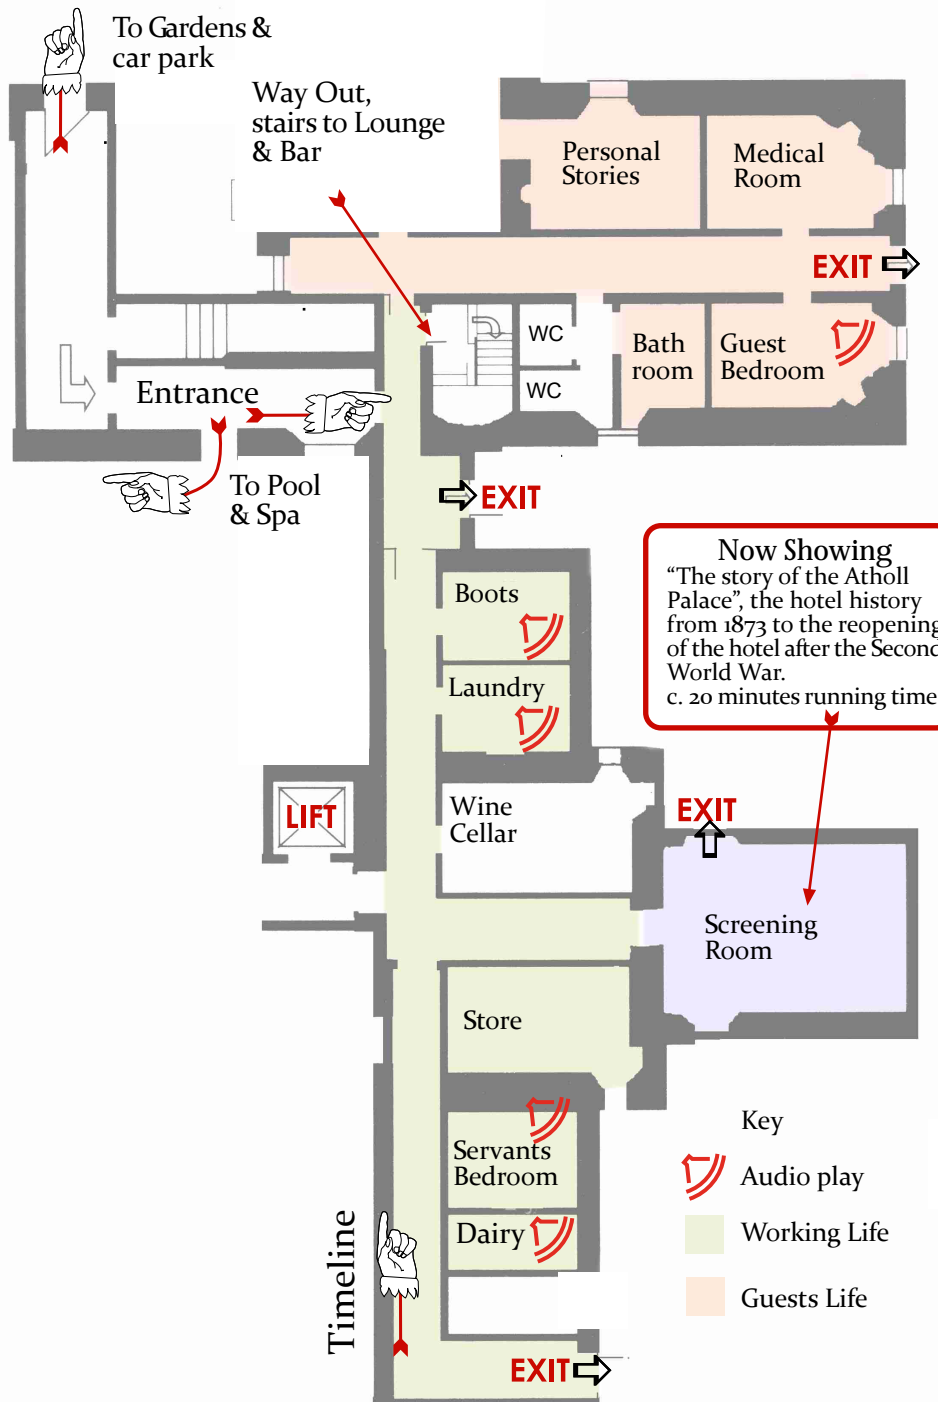

Dr William Roy administered his hydropathic treatments.

Guest Bedroom (1891)

Listen as Mr. & Mrs. Daniel Harvest as they enjoy their stay in this luxurious bedroom.

Victorian Bathroom

Featuring pre 1880 toilets and bath.

Working Life

Boots (1917)

He shined your shoes and kept the flags flying - see his collecton of light bulbs.

Sewing & Fine Laundry Room (1917)

The secrets of a linenmaid.

Store

Untouched since 1878, including the original slate counters.

Servants Bedroom (1881)

Mary and Netta return to the hotel to make it ready for the summer season.

Dairy

The hotel was very self sufficient and before the war butter and ice-cream were made in the dairy. The dairy was also used to store milk, butter and cheese.

